PENN STATE ICE CREAM

Everybody loves Ice Cream, and nobody does Ice Cream better than Berkey Creamery at Penn State. The lines are always long, but worth the wait at the Creamery.

Tom Palchak received his B.S degree in Food Science at Penn State, then never left State College after graduation. In his current position he is responsible for the management and budgetary oversight of the Creamery dairy plant, salesroom and laboratory. He is also responsible for providing students enrolled in food science or dairy science opportunities for internships in milk processing and quality control.

Come enjoy hearing a little bit of history of the creamery as well as how ice cream is made at Penn State. And of course,
